

Social and Personal

A Serenade.

Look out upon the stars, my love,
And shame them with thine eyes,
On which, than on the lights above,
There hangs more delicate
Night's beauty is the harmony
Of blending shades and light;
Then, lady, up-look out and be
A sister to the night.

Sleep not—thine image makes for eye
Within my watching breast;
Sleep not from her soft sleep should
Fly,
Who robs all hearts of rest,
Nay, lady, from thy slumbers break,
And make this darkness gay,
With looks whose brightness well might Make
Of darker nights a day.

Edward Coate Pinkney.

OF INTEREST HERE.

Now in Washington.

Mrs. Claude Swanson, who was the recent guest in Richmond, of her sister, Mrs. Cunningham Hall, and who has been at her country home, "Eldon," near Chatham, Va., since, has now gone to Washington, D. C.

She will return with Mr. Swanson to Richmond, on January 25th, and will then be at the Jefferson Hotel for some days. Mrs. Swanson's mourning has kept her in retirement of her Chatham home during the autumn and will prevent her taking any part in the official and social festivities of Washington scheduled for January. During Mr. Swanson's congressional term of office she has made many warm friends in the national capital, where she has lived during the winter and has always, hitherto, been accounted one of the most graceful and gracious of Southern hostesses.

Jamestown Committee.

The Jamestown committee of this national organization, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet to-day in Washington to discuss plans for the house to be built by the Daughters, at Jamestown Island, for use and occupation during the Jamestown Exposition and afterward.

Mrs. Donald McLean, president-general of the national society, has returned from New York, where she was tendered a brilliant reception by the Daughters of that State. Mrs. Benjamin L. Purcell, regent of the Commonwealth Chapter, D. A. R. in this city, is chairman of the Jamestown committee, but is prevented by sickness from being in Washington to-day. She will be represented by Mrs. James Lyons, who is a lineal descendant of Patrick Henry and has recently become a resident at "Red Hill," in Charlotte county, where her distinguished ancestor spent his last days and where he is buried.

The place which has remained in the hands of the Henry family has been bought by Mrs. Matthew Bland Harrison, Mrs. Lyons's sister.

AMONG THE CLUBS.

Stay-at-Home Whist.

Mrs. William R. Robins, of the Shirley, entertained the club last Monday evening, but on account of the inclemency of the weather the club was represented by but two tables. The best scores were made by Mrs. W. R. Robins and Admiral Webster; Mrs. William Gray and Miss Mattie Harris. The club will meet at Miss Jane Rutherford's, No. 822 West Grace Street, next Monday evening.

Norfolk Woman's Club.

The first lecture arranged by the Woman's Club of Norfolk will be given January 15th in the Y. M. C. A. hall, by Professor Preston W. Search, Worcester, Mass. The theme of this lecture, which will be illustrated by vocal and piano music, will be drawn principally from "Tannhauser."

The second of the lecture series will be delivered Friday, February 2d, when Peter McQueen, who has traveled through Russia by special permission of the czar, will talk of Russian social life and customs. On Friday, February 16th, Dr. Eugene May will lecture before the club on the "Passion Play at Oberammergau." The fourth lecture will be on "The American Wonderland," by R. S. Stoddard. The subject of the fifth, and last in the series, has not yet been announced. Dr. Charles W. Kent, who occupies the chair of English literature in the University of Virginia, will be the lecturer.

Mrs. Martin's At-Home.

Senator and Mrs. Thomas S. Martin are commencing for their Washington winter season in the former home of Mr. Thomas Regar, and Mrs. Martin's five o'clock teas are considered exceptionally pleasant affairs.

She gave a recent "at home," in which drawing room decorations were in pink roses and carnations, and in which the hostess was assisted by Miss Grace Day, of Virginia, her sister; by Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks and Mrs. Timmons, her wife and daughter of the Vice-President; by Mrs. P. M. Rixey, wife of Surgeon-General Rixey, and by Mrs. States Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia.

Course of Lectures.

Dr. Bruce Payne, formerly of William and Mary College, now of the University of Virginia, has most kindly and generously consented to give a course of two lectures at the Richmond Training School for Kindergartners. The subject will be "Some Fundamental Principles of Kindergarten and Primary Work."

The first lecture will be held on Thursday, January 11th, at 4 o'clock in No. 14 West Main Street.

The trustees of the Training School are glad to open this course to all who are interested in the subject and extend a cordial invitation especially to the teachers of the city.

Professor Payne is well known in Richmond as a charming and brilliant lecturer, and one particularly qualified to speak on the subject selected.

WEDDINGS.

Jones—Tarry.

A quiet home wedding will take place this morning at 11 o'clock at No. 1212 West Clay Street, when Miss Beattie Ellison Tarry will become the wife of Mr. Harrie Taylor Jones, the Rev. Junius B.

YOU MEANER BEAUTIES.

By SIR HENRY WOTTON.

"Philomel" means Nightingale. Another selection by this writer has already been printed in this series.

YOU meaner beauties of the night,
That poorly satisfy our eyes
More by your number than your light—
You common people of the skies,
What are you when the moon shall rise?

Ye violets that first appear,
By your pure purple mantles known,
Like the proud virgins of the year,
As if the spring were all your own—
What are you when the rose is blown?

Ye curious chanters of the wood,
That warble forth Dame Nature's lays,
Thinking your passion understood
By your weak accents—what's your praise
When Philomel her voice shall raise?

So when my mistress shall be seen,
In sweetness of her looks and mind,
By virtue first, then choice, a queen,
Tell me if she was not designed
Th' eclipse and glory of her kind.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Spies, of the New Jerusalem Church Mission, officiating.

Mrs. Helen R. Richards will preside at the piano, playing the wedding march from Lohengrin and other selections; and Mr. Wilson Jones, brother of the groom, will be the best man. The bride will come in on the arm of her father, Mr. H. E. Tarry. Her costume will be a going-away gown of plum-colored broadcloth, with white panne velvet hat and white gloves. She will carry a bride's roses.

After the ceremony the bride and groom will leave for Washington, where they will be tendered a reception by the aunt of the bride, Mrs. Henry Robinson. They will be at home at January 20th, at No. 85 West Clay Street.

The groom is the assistant manager at Heroy's tea store, and is a promising young business man. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Tarry, and has a large circle of friends.

The young couple have received many handsome presents as evidence of their popularity.

Among the out-of-town guests will be: Mrs. S. V. Harvey, of Lynchburg; Mr. E. M. Harvey, of Norfolk; Miss Blanche Quarles, of Amelia county; Miss Ethel Betts, of Henderson, N. C.; Miss Ethel Bobbitt, of Palmer's Springs, N. C.; and Mr. John Thomas Wood, of Lunenburg county.

Williams—Mastin.

Among the interesting weddings of to-day will be that of Miss Blanche Coomman Mastin, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph T. Mastin, to Mr. George Herman Williams, which will take place at the Methodist Orphanage this evening at 6 o'clock. The Rev. Joseph T. Mastin, father of the bride, will perform the ceremony. Miss Annie Elizabeth Mastin, cousin of the bride, will be maid-of-honor, and Mr. Dallas Frank Williams, of Berkeley, Va., will be best man. Little Misses Alma Armstrong and Katharine Redford will act as flower-girls. The bride and groom-elect are very popular in Richmond and Berkeley, where Mr. Williams, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Williams, of that city, holds an excellent business position.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Edison Huff, of this city, has returned from a recent visit to his father, Mr. W. A. Huff, and his sister, Mrs. Daisy Huff Sparks, of Macon, Ga.

Miss Helen Harris, of this city, attended the marriage of Miss Dora Barron to Mr. Lloyd Withers, taking place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ingram in Charlotte, N. C., Saturday evening last. Only a few friends of bride and groom witnessed the ceremony. Mrs. Alex. Stephens played the wedding march and Mr. Guy Withers, the groom's brother, was best man.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Henry, of Philadelphia, to R. Emmett Daffron, formerly of this city. The ceremony will take place January 16th, in St. Teresa's Church, at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. A reception at the bride's home will follow the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Johnson, of Richmond, were among the out-of-town guests at the marriage of Miss Rosa Ann Conaty to Mr. Curtis M. Dozier, which took place at 7 o'clock Monday morning in St. Mary's Catholic Church, Norfolk.

Mrs. C. C. Schoen is the guest of Mrs. Spartley, in Hampton.

Miss Mattie Davis, of Hampton, is visiting friends here.

Miss Fannie Goodman has returned to the city after a pleasant visit to friends in Newport News.

Mrs. Maurice Evans is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. N. Hamlet, at No. 521 East Leigh Street.

A marriage which will occasion much surprise to friends here took place quietly in Radford on Monday last, when Miss Kathleen White and Mr. Clarence Penn, both of Abingdon, were united in marriage. Mr. Penn is well known here and in Norfolk, where she has frequently visited.

Mrs. Greenhow Maury, of Danville, was hostess at a delightful seven-course and encore on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. George Cabell, of Norfolk.

Miss Conway, of Rapidan, Orange county, is spending the winter in Richmond.

Society in Charleston, S. C., was pleasantly excited last evening over the presence of Secretary Bonaparte, of the United States navy, of the officers of the cruiser Charleston and of the coast service squadron. The presentation of a service of silver and a punch bowl, given by the city of Charleston, will take place on the cruiser to-day. A magnificent ball at the Charleston Hotel will be a feature of to-night. The ball will be preceded by a hunt dinner given in the country home of Congressman Legare.

Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will meet this morning at 11 o'clock in Lee C. Hall.

Mr. C. A. Richardson, of No. 615 North Twenty-seventh Street, is convalescing steadily. His physician considers that, with care, he will be out in a week or two. He is already sitting up in his room.

A recent issue of the Montgomery Advertiser, of Alabama, contains an account of the wedding of Miss Mary Eva Thomas, of Montgomery, to Mr. Orrin Allen Neal, formerly of Danville, Va. The Advertiser said: "A number of telegrams from Virginia brought greetings and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Neal from his friends and relatives and many handsome presents gave evidence of the loving esteem which both are held."

The American Historical Congress has decided to restore Calvert house at Riverdale, Md. The congress will pursue the same plan adopted at Mount Vernon, assigning a room in the mansion to each of the thirteen original States, and a regent in each State will have charge of the furnishing of her room.

NATIONAL BANKS ELECT DIRECTORS

Nearly All of the Old Members Have Been Re-Elected.

MR. GEO. W. STEVENS RESIGNS

Mr. Lilburn Myers Takes His Father's Place on Board of City Bank.

The National Bank held on yesterday the annual election of directors. There were very few changes made in the different boards.

The Planters National Bank elected the same directors as last year: James N. Boyd, J. J. Montague, W. J. Westwood, T. William Pemberton and Morton B. Rosenbaum.

The Merchants National Bank made no change. The directors are: B. B. Munford, John P. Branch, A. S. Buford, James H. Dooley, Charles H. Stringfellow, A. Pizzini, Jr., Thomas B. Scott, Fred W. Scott, Blythe W. Branch, John K. Branch, J. P. George, Alexander Hamilton, Samuel T. Morgan and Milton E. Marcuse.

The First National Bank elected all the old directors and added two new members to the board. The directors are: A. H. Christian, J. S. D. Crenshaw, Charles Davenport, G. A. Davenport, D. O. Davis, John M. Miller, Jr., J. B. Mosby, J. B. Purcell, T. M. Rutherford, F. Sterling, J. Stern, A. D. Williams, E. A. Saunders, Jr., John C. Easley and Tazewell Carrington.

The American National Bank made no change in its directorate:

The following officers were re-elected: Messrs. W. C. Camp, H. W. Rountree, W. R. McComb, W. J. Payne, O. J. Sands, Emmett, Senon, Charles E. Wingo, James B. Gordon, Edgar G. Gunn, Philip Whitlock, R. H. Harwood and Jackson Guy. The president made a report upon the business for the year, which shows a very satisfactory increase in every department. The total assets of the bank increased $50,000 during the year, and the deposits increased $45,000. The officers are as follows: O. J. Sands, president; C. E. Wingo and W. C. Camp, vice-presidents; O. B. Hill, cashier; Waller Holladay and Andrew Moreland, assistant cashiers.

The National Bank of Virginia re-elected the old board with the exception of Mr. George W. Stevens, who resigned. Mr. E. W. Williams was elected to fill the vacancy. The directors are: Benjamin P. Alsop, George L. Christian, T. A. Cary, George R. Cannon, James H. Capers, T. H. Ellett, H. Theo. Ellyson, W. H. Hablston, R. H. Lindsey, J. W. Rothert, R. G. Reynolds, B. Rann, Wellford, F. D. Williams, T. C. Williams, Jr., and Even R. Williams.

The City Bank of Richmond elected all the old directors with Mr. Lilburn Myers in the place of his father, the late Major E. T. D. Myers.

The directors are: E. B. Addison, James H. Anderson, James N. Boyd, I. D. Cardozo, S. H. Hawes, Lilburn T. Myers, A. L. Holladay, William Josiah Leake, William H. Palmer, S. W. Travers, B. B. Valentine.

THE RUNAWAYS.

"Across the Pacific" Draws Good Houses—Theatrical Notes.

"Across the Pacific" at the Bijou is drawing large crowds, and Johnnie Hoy as "Willie Live" is "making good," getting as many laughs as did Harry Clay Blaney when he played the part. Lillian Davenport, the young lady who is doing the comedy part of the piece with Mr. Hoy, is singing good songs and in a manner all her own. She evidently believes, with Beau Brummel, in "a mere glance of the eye."

attractions, in "The Runaways," that visited Richmond this season.

The musical comedy is full of bright, catchy songs; the piece is well mounted, and the actors headed by that clever comedian, "Honey Boy" George Evans, are of well known ability.

Fantasma Next Week.

At the Bijou next week the attraction will be "Fantasma," a spectacular musical pantomime. The company carried fifty people and three cars of scenery, and claims to have "the prettiest girls and best dancing organization in America."

Miss Jane Peyton, who will be seen in the role of Mrs. Kate Brandon, owner of the "Katy" mine, in "The Helix to the Hour," when it reaches the Academy of Music, is herself a Western girl, whose personality is said to exactly fit the mannerisms of the breezy woman capitalist in the play. For the past two seasons she was Lawrence D'Orra's leading woman in "The Earl of Pawtucket."
